MTBC Announces Special Offer For Allscripts Myway™ Users And Resellers

SOMERSET, NJ, Jan. 08, 2013 -- Following AllScripts' announcement of its decision to discontinue development and sale of its MyWay™ electronic health record (EHR), MTBC today announced an exclusive offer for displaced MyWay™ users and resellers.

MTBC's new offering for MyWay™ EHR users includes guaranteed, hassle-free data migration and go-live. In addition, MTBC has agreed to waive all data migration, implementation and training costs for MyWay™ users who choose to adopt either MTBC's standalone ONC-ATCB certified EHR, known as ChartsPro™, or its comprehensive EHR, practice management (PM) and revenue cycle management (RCM) bundle, known as PracticePro™.

"We believe that the Allscripts™ decision to phase-out MyWay™ presents a good opportunity for providers to explore and adopt a far more cost effective and comprehensive EHR, PM and RCM solution," said MTBC President Stephen Snyder. Mr. Snyder further explained, "We welcome the opportunity to discuss our solutions with those MyWay™ users and resellers who are exploring their range of options."

Vice Chairman of the Board David Rosenblum explained, "MTBC provides fully integrated, end-to-end EMR, practice and revenue cycle management solutions designed to streamline practice workflows, improve revenues and reduce expenses." MTBC's success has been recognized nationally with multiple appearances on both the Deloitte Technology Fast 500 list (2009–2012) and Inc. 500|5000 list (2010-2012).

MTBC's CIO, Hadi Chaudhry, commented that even though MyWay™ made the industry headlines, many smaller EHR vendors will likely buckle under the weight of Meaningful Use ("MU") Stage 2 and 3, 5010 and ICD-10. "MTBC is already 5010 ready, our clients are getting their MU Stage 1 dollars and we are among the first to participate in Stage 2 pre-testing," said Mr. Chaudhry. He further explained, "Moreover, we can guarantee a fast and seamless migration to our platform because our team has years of proven experience performing successful PM and EHR migrations."

To support former MyWay™ resellers, MTBC also offers them the opportunity to participate in MTBC's VAR program and become authorized resellers of its EHR, practice management and revenue cycle products. Through their participation, MTBC resellers can offer a broader range of fully integrated services to their clients, while increasing their revenues.
